NEWS SUMMARY.

Gold closed yesterday in New York at 187;, and cotton at 321@33, chiefly at the latter figure. A county in Wisconsin sends a specimen o shingles to the Paris Exposition.

The Legislature of Mississippi rejected the Constitutional Amendment by a unanimous vote. About two dozen first-class houses on Fifth Ave nue, New York, are for sale, at prices ranging from $50,000 to $100,000. The internal revenue collections in New York city since 1862 foot up a total of $100,129,643.86. Last year the amount received was $35,000,000. The Fenian leaders in New York advertise for sale 2000 arms, principally muskets and Springfield rifles, all ready for instant use. Two bald eagles were killed in the vicinity of Shawnestown, Ill., on the 19th ult., one of which measured from tip to tip of its wings seven feet and three inches. Since the morgue was opened in New York City, on the 21st of Jane, there have been received 72 bodies, 28 of which were indentified and 44 buried unrecognized. The Hopkins' plantation, Houmas Parish, Louisiana, containing 3600 acres, was sold by the United States Marshal a week ago, for $25,600. The same place sold, before the war, with negroes and stock, for $210,000.

The total receipts from indirect taxation in France for the year 1866, including customs, excise and stamp duties, postoffice, Government manufactures, &c., amounted to 1,282,268,000f., being an increase of 59,734,000f. on 1865, and of 105,576, The Centre Church, in Hartford, was erganize in 1636, and is now 230 years old In this time it has had eleven ministers, all of whom, except the last, died in its pastorate. Dr. Hawas, the last pastor, resigned after serving the church for more than 40 years. A report of the geological survey of Illinois includes a particular description of the fossile, numbering about 325, of which nearly 3:0 were discovered, or first made known to science, through the agency of the State Geological Survey. Of these 825 species, 50 are plants, 156 are invertebrate animals, and 110 vertebrates. Bennington, Vermont, has a new water fountain which throws water to the height of one hundred and fifteen feet, twenty feet higher than any known fountain in the world. The water is conveyed over a mile in iron pipes, and has a fall of three hundred and five feet. A number of English capitalists have obtained from the Brazilian Government a charter, granting the privilege of constructing a steam tramroad from Bahia to the diamond mining district, and large tracts of land through which the road will pass has been given to the company. A correspondent writing from Boston states that a woollen manufactory at Winooski Falls, Vt., has for several years past declared yearly dividends of one hundred per cent., but the fact has never been published, owing to the owners, who are few in number, not allowing it to get into the news-

A large reprizing tebacco barn, near Farmville, Va., belonging to the heirs of the late H. G. RICH-ARDSON, together with its contents, some 40,000 or 50,000 pounds of tobacco, were destroyed by fire and one of the largest and most substantial in that region. The fire was accidental. During the funeral ceremonies in the House on Saturday over the remains of the Hon. PHILIP JOHNSON, Mr. ASHLEY sat just opposite and within thirty feet of President Johnson, but studiously avoided looking in that direction. This is the first time the President has appeared in the House since the delivery of the memorial enlogy on the Hon. HENRY WINTER DAVIS, by Senator CRESWELL. The New York Herald of the 2d makes the following announcement: "The steamship Saragossa, of LEARY'S Line, leaves Pier No. 14, East River, at one o'clock to-day, for Charleston, connecting there with the steamer Dictator, for Florida. Passengers for the South, by taking boats of this line, reach there as soon as by railroad, and sycid the detontions and extra expense."

The New Orleans correspondent of a New York paper says: 'It is understood that if the Legislature passes the bill for the new Constitution over the veto of Gov. Wells, he will issue a proclamation declaring the convention of '64 legal and reassembling it. The Radicals are organizing the grand army of the Republic all over the State, and a conflict between the Radicals and ex-Confederates is not improbable." A meerschaum pipe, manufactured in this coun try and designed for the Paris Exhibition, is now to be seen in New York. The pipe itself is eleven inches in length, and the amber mouth-piece eight inches long and two inches thick. The carving on the trunk of the pipe represents the meeting of MACRETH and BANQUO with the witches, on their way from the battle-field. Tae figures and horses are four inches in height. Surmounting the bowl SHARSPRANE is represented seated in a chair, looking down upon the scene.

A dispatch, dated Boston, February 1, says: "The walls of a large dwelling house, on the corner of Kingston and Summer streets, which is in process of being altered so as to be occupied as a store, fell in this morning, burying a number of workmen. Two of the men were rescued alive, but were very badly bruised. It-is believed that two other men are still under the ruins, but it is unknown whether they have perished. The infured men were taken to the hospital and their wounds were promptly attended to."

The New York Evening Post says: "The Tariff Bill has gone so the House. It is, as we have shown by exact figures, or of the most oppressive and unequal revenue bills ever devised. It lays exceedingly heavy burdens upon the articles consumed by the poor and the workingmen, and their wives and children, and favors the rich in every way. We once more warn members of the House of Representatives not to vote for this bill, unless they are sure that it will be defeated. If it becomes a law, and goes into operation, it will, as it ought to, kill, politically, every man who votes for it."

Information from the city of Mexico is to the effect that MAXIMULIAN intends to issue a new proclamation taking stronger grounds than those assumed at Orizaba. The Cabinet decided in favor of his remaining in Mexico. It was rumored that MIRAMON was disaffected. The garrisons and authorities of Tresnillo and Flotoqui had given in their adhesion to Juanez over Ontega. On the retreat of Mejia, with his division, through San Felipe, the jails were thrown open and the prisoners were enlisted. Two thousand dollars were demanded from the citizens, but, as all of it could not be raised, three citizens were ordered to be days. The people of the United States before the shot. Before the shooting took place, however, war felt the weight of taxation perhaps as little as the money was forthcoming.

CHARLESTON.

THURSDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 7, 1867.

WE PUBLISH to-day the full proposition for Reconstruction, which has been referred to before in our telegraphic columns. We are authorized te state that the proposition has met with the approval of the President and many of the prominent members of Congress. It also has the sanction of Gov. One of our State, Gov. MARVIN of Florida, ex-Gov. Passons of Alabama, ex-Gov. SHARKEY of Mississippi, and other leading Southern politicians, and it is quite probable that the Legislature of North Carolina will adopt it, as it is now before that body.

SOUTH CAROLINA LOYALISTS.

As we have predicted on several occasions, Mr. Strings at last has presented that "petition from citizens of South Carolina, asking for the establishment of a loyal government" in that State. The dispatch will be found in our telegraphic columns this morning.

Who are the petititioners? The people of South Carolina would like to know. Why do they not let their light shine, and come forth and profess their | They could not do so before the passage of the Tax. faith before all men? The people are much interested in this matter, and should not be kept in that the Bill was hurried through the two Houses the dark. Let not the gentlemen be afraid. chance for a martyr's crown. But we respectfully Chamber, with a view of procuring and tendering suggest that it is time to put away the dark lantern.

DELAWARE.

This little State, friendly always to the South,one of our fellow-sufferers during the late war,den with us, ... merits more attention at our hands debted to a friend for a copy of the Weekly Republican, of January 24, published in Wilmington, and has the true ring of sound Democratic doctrine. He gives expression to a dignified protest against the recklessly aggressive legislation of Congress. He concludes with the following paragraph:

If Congress shall be brought to respect and observe the constitutional limitations upon its powers, and the rights reserved to the States and the ers, and the rights reserved to the States and the people shall be maintained and upheld, we may look forward to a future of unparalleled prosperity and greatness, and transmit to posterity the heritage of freedom bequeathed to us by the fathers of the Republic; but, if we are untrue to ourselves, if we permit our State Governments to be overthrown, and part with the protection and security they afforded us in the past, and hold our rights only by the tenure of congressional pleasure, the spirit of free institutions will have fied, and the genius of liberty, excluded from the land, will have become an exile from our shores, never to return.

remarks of the New York Tribune, relative to the late difficulty on the CHEVES plantation, near Savannah. It refused to publish the accounts given in the Savanuah papers, and discharged the subject by saving that in any difficulty between Gen. Thuson and the freedmen, the former must be considered in the wrong, and that United States troops should not be sent against freedmen on plantations.

In its issue of Saturday last we find the following from a private letter in this city, giving a new version to the affair, and at the same time promulgating sundry other mendacions pieces of intelli-

The trouble on the Savannah River was easily settled by General Scott, the Commissioner of Freedmen. Some officer sent a squad of soldiers to a plantation under charge of an ex-rebel officer, and the negroes, who had more sense than the cer. Day before yesterday a young fellow rode up and down King street, Charleston, an hour or two in full Confederate uniform, coat, trowsers, cap and all, with at least four dozon brass buttons on his person. Two colored confederate uniforms contained buttons on his person. other persons concerned, took exceptions to being and all, with at least four dozen brass buttons on his person. Two colored orderlies from General Scott's headquarters were besten in one day while carrying orders down town. They now carry their muskets wherever they go. Both the assailants have been arrested by the Commissioner of Freed-

As regards the CHEVES affair, we have nothing further to say at this time, leaving that for our Savannah exchanges; but we happen to know something about the last-mentioned report. The fasts are, in brief, as follows: A loyal citizen of Kentucky, a temporary resident of this city, was walking along quietly, when he was jostled by two negro soldiers, off the sidewalk; he remonstrated; they drow their bayonets, and he his pistol. The negroes were not on duty at the time. The gentleman was arrested, it is true, and brought to trial on the day after, and promptly acquitted. Part of the testimony given in his favor was by freedmen, who witnessed the entire affair.

But the Confederate uniforms! Ah! What about them? Why, just this: There are a great many young men, and some old men, little boys, and some of the most loyal negroes about here, who wear coats and jackets of grey cloth-not from any spirit of bravado, but purely and solely because the close of the war found them with these grey clothes on their backs,—the remainder of their wardrone was destroyed or stolen by Messre. SHERMAN & Co., and they have not since had money enough to purchase new suits of the loyal hue In the city these grey coats usually have been shorn of their late outfit of shining "staff buttons," sober black lastings having taken their place; but occasionally an ex-Confederate comes in from the rural districts, with brass buttons, but no one (except the Tribune's correspondent) sees disloyalty in these old brass but ons. We have not for more than a year seen any insignia of rank (which are essential parts of a uniform). But a certain class of persons can always see whatever they may wish to see, whother it is uniform angelic perfection in blacks, or persistent disloyalty in ex-Confederates. EPHRAIM is joined to his idols, let him alone.

TAXES.

"And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree that all the world be taxed." So says the scripture; and we are sure all our readers will concur with us in saying that the above statement'is as true as gospel, even as applied to these the inhabitants of any civilized country in the people elected their rulers and administrative officers of every grade, from a county tax collector to the Chief Magistrate of the Republic; and when we moreover bear in mind that we searcely ers. That this is done more for the purpose of enriching Northern manufacturers than to produce an increase of national revenue, can be little consolation to us. We have an Internal Revenue Bureau. exercising paternal supervision over every branch of business, on every product of industry, over all newspaper having the largest circulation in Lits, sciences, trades and professions. Parlor matches and chow-chow pickles, Brandreth's pills and gin cocktails, cotton osnaburgs. Monougahela, and Yankes brogans, are all inspected, taxed and stamped, before they are pronounced fit for use. Then there is an income tax, and a tax on sales, licenses, patents, and what not all besides. A thousand ways of levying tribute from the unfortunate individual who finds himself thrown on these overtaxed American shores. Quoth the baxman (always poetical, as we know from experienco), "The world is mine oyster! Shell out."

The State tax also, heretofore light, is now very merous, and the more so because the bill imposing it was unwisely, inconsiderately, and hastily concocted. It bears unequally on different sections of the State. The city and its interests are treated with marked injustice. It was a shamefully narrow-minded and short-sighted policy that uld dictate such a tax bill. Since we last wrote on this subject we have been informed that some of the nombers of our city delegation did their utmost to induce the Legislature to modify some of the most objectionable features of the bill but failed of success. We still think, however, that if these gentlemen had come up to a full sense of their duty to their constituents, and had kept this bill clearly in view through the entire session, especially if they had acted in concert, -they could not have thus failed of success. We see, in the transactions of the Board o

Trade on Tuesday evening last, a resolution was adopted requesting the Committee on Grievances (of that Society) to report what remedy, if any, can be suggested whereby the merchants may be relieved from the onerous and impolitic tax of ten per cent. upon the sales of liquors. We understand the resolution was objected to upon the ground that the Board of Trade had nothing to do with the matter; that the tax was imposed by the Legislature, and the Board not competent to declare the law unconstitutional. We cannot see the force of this objection. It would seem to us that it was within the province of the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, or any other body of merchants, to take such questions into consideration. There is no ble even to call a special meeting of the Board or advice to the Committee who had this Bill under consideration. The merchants of Charleston have a right to protest against this law.
